MR. SMITH FAILED TO COME.

Newberry County Cotton Grower's Association Reorganized Yesterday.

Newberry County Cotton Grower's association had announced through its president, Mr. R. T. C. Hunter that Mr. E. D. Smith, president of the State Cotton Grower's association, would be in Newberry yesterday and deliver an address. About two hundred or more of farmers came to Newberry for the purpose of hearing Mr. Smith. Mr. Smith did not come. He did not send any message as to why he did not appear. The meeting was not called to order until about 1 o'clock hoping that Mr. Smith would come on one of the other of the midday trains. President Hunter tried to reach somebody connected with his office in Columbia, but failed. Mr. Fred Long, who was at Edgefield last week where Mr. Smith spoke, stated that Mr. Smith told him that he would be here yesterday. That is the last message which has been received from Mr. Smith.

This is about the third time that Mr. Smith has disappointed the Newberry farmers. Mr. Hunter promised the meeting yesterday that he would endeavor to get some explanation from Mr. Smith touching his failure to be here yesterday and that he would publish the reasons in the county papers, or failing to secure any reasons, would advise the farmers to that effect.

It was a great disappointment, for a great many of the farmers left their work in order to hear the speech of Mr. Smith. Despite the fact that Mr. Smith was absent, however, there was a good meeting and it will no doubt result in the reorganization and the revivifying of the Newberry County Cotton Grower's association.

Mr. Hunter, in calling the meeting to order, stated that even though some of the farmers were put out because of Mr. Smith's failure to come, and even though Mr. Smith probably has not treated the farmers of this county as they deserve to be, that was no reason for condemning the cotton association.

In this day everything is in a combine, and if the farmers fail to meet combination with combination they may expect to be at the mercy of the great combine of the country. The farmers cannot expect to make money or even to exist until they do combine in order to meet combination with combination. Not for the purpose of fighting any one, but if any one gets in the way and is hurt, is it simply his fault.

Mr. Hunter stated that we had practically no organization in this county. The election of officers should have been in December, but though he tried very hard only two persons came. The farmers in the Cotton Grower's Association can do a great deal of good in maintaining the price of cotton and there is no conflict between the Cotton Grower's Association and the Farmers' Union. We know that we cannot make money with cotton at 4 cents and even at 10 cents, with the present price of labor, there is no money in growing cotton, but it makes no difference as to the price, the farmers should have some say as to what that should be. There is no sense in making cotton and taking less for it than it cost to make it. It would be better to make no cotton, for we can live in this country without growing cotton.

In the Cotton Grower's Association every citizen of the south is entitled to membership if he feels an interest in the prosperity of this section. Mr. Hunter also said there seemed to be some mistake about the cotton association going into the banking business. It was not the purpose of the cotton association to engage in banking. It was their purpose to establish cotton warehouses and to secure from the banks now in existence money on receipts issued by these warehouses. Mr. Hunter expressed a desire that a cotton association should be revised.

Mr. Alan Johnstone stated that Mr. Hunter was still the president and would remain so until his successor was elected; he felt that the association in this county should be reorganized. Those who belonged to the Farmers' Union felt that that organization would grow, but there are certain reasons why it cannot take in all of the people and the cotton association can take in every man in the south, and it puts us in touch with other interests. He was gratified at the interest manifested by the business men of Newberry. When they were asked to close their stores on yesterday in order that they might hear the speech of Mr. Smith, all the business men agreed readily to close up. Every interest recognized the fact that better price cotton meant greater prosperity for the south. Therefore this organization should not fall still-born. Mr.

Johnstone believes there was some reason beyond the control of Mr. Smith of his failure to appear yesterday. In his absence the organization should not fall through, therefore, he moved that the present officers be reelected. Mr. Hunter said that he was a plain-spoken man and could not get his consent to serve again unless he was assured of the hearty co-operation of the other officers, and he felt that it would be better to have a new set of officers. The truth of the matter is, during the past year Mr. Hunter has worked very hard and has had very little co-operation and has really been the cotton association of Newberry county. Several other nominations were made for president and they all declined. A committee composed of W. H. Miller, W. B. Counts, N. H. Young and J. A. C. Kibler was then appointed to nominate officers. They reported the following, who were unanimously elected: R. T. C. Hunter, president; W. C. Brown, vice-president; G. F. Long, secretary; Alan Johnstone, treasurer.

Mr. Hunter stated that inasmuch as the committee had seen proper to place his for nomination, he would not decline, but he accepted on the condition that he would have the hearty co-operation and support of the organization. He announced that he would name the executive committee later.

Mr. J. A. Sligh said that he felt he should state that the nominations met his hearty approval; Mr. Hunter was the man for the position and he knew that Mr. Hunter had worked hard to keep up the organization, and he believed that he would continue to work for the organization, and he hoped that he would secure an executive committee that would assist him in his work. Dr. McIntosh stated that there was another question of vital importance, in fact as vital as that of marketing and selling the cotton, and that was the effect of the decision of Judge Brawley in regard to labor contracts. He understood that an appeal had been taken to the supreme court of the United States from the decision of Judge Brawley, and he moved that he president of the association get in communication with similar organization in other counties and ascertain if they could be of any assistance in furthering this appeal. This motion met with the hearty approval of the meeting and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Sligh wanted to know what the status of the case at present is. In other words whether an appeal would stay the effect of Judge Brawley's decision, and if the law could be enforced as it had been until the final determination of the case by the supreme court of the United States. Mr. Alan Johnstone stated that he had consulted good legal authority and that opinion was, that the contract law stood until the final determination by the supreme court. The meeting adjourned.

Some 12 or 14 black-smiths met here and organized what is to be known as "the Newberry and Lexington County Black-Smiths Protective Association." The object of this association is for the mutual benefit and protection of its members. The members have their "unions," the merchants their "board of trade" or chambers of commerce, the rural mail carriers their associations, in fact it is hard to think of any special line of business, that the men interested are not banding themselves together for their mutual benefit and protection. We are glad that on account of its geographical position, and the advantage that we have in railroad facilities, that the black-smiths selected this place as a meeting place to organize. We hope that our merchants and business men will catch the enthusiasm, and get busy and organize a board of trade, chamber of commerce, or something, that will set the people together and do something for the betterment of our town.

The association elected Jas. E. Sheeley, Little Mountain, President; H. B. Lindler, Peaks, Secretary and Treasurer.
